

Our six key issues

The future is shared

Dignified elderly life

Our elderly must have freedom and influence in their own lives.

Their care must be given with warmth, respect and dignity.

We'll strengthen the collaboration with relatives, volunteers and local communities.

Better well-being for children and youth

Children and young people must thrive, feel safe and happy - both in schools and day-care.

We want to strengthen their everyday lives with presence, professionalism and community. Well-being and trust are fundamental in all work with children and young people.

Green action

We must take climate change seriously - and act on it.

The Social Democrats will take their starting point in The Agreement on a Green Denmark* and work purposefully for a sustainable future.

We will strengthen our efforts for renewable energy, recycling, the environment and green heating.

Security and unity

We want a municipality that includes all and reaches out to those in need.

We must be good at catching people who struggles - before problems get severe.

Through close dialogue and early action, we'll tackle the challenges head on – together.

Volunteering

A strong society is built on volunteering – it creates community and prevents loneliness.

We want better and a more uniform conditions for volunteers and associations.

Volunteering must be included in the school curriculum, so more young people experience the value of making a difference.

Settlement and development

We want a forward-looking strategy for settlement and urban development throughout Billund Municipality, based on The 7 strong City profiles.

More newcomers strengthen the tax base, create both age and cultural dynamics and add new life to our associations and commercial life, and the opportunity to build new friendships.

* A political agreement between the Danish government and key stakeholders in the agricultural and environmental sectors, called 'Den Grønne Trepert'.

 A common vision and direction for development in and across the 7 cities, called 'Byprofilen for Billund Kommunes 7 største byer'.
